This is a step by step process that is very detailed and explains to the reader on how to identify pods. This will be used in Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum for helping the user identify the different pods and give them ideas of what to do with them. Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum was used for all parts of this project including download, installation, and master edits on GarageBand and Apples Loops. This project will include an intro, outro, breakdown within the song, and a melody that is connected to all looping sounds created in GarageBand & Apples Loops. The song will be played while the user is performing actions on Pod Farm 2. 5 Platinum to help them get an idea of what is going on in the program. This project will include a melody, drum beat, and vocal cues that will be created on Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum. The Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum project will be made using the iOS sound library which is a set of sounds created by Apple exclusively for their devices. Each sound has their own instrument and each instrument has it's own sample rates so they do not disrupt one another while being played alongside one another in a song. Each note played for this song was created with at least three different instruments so the listener does not get tired of hearing one sound over and over again. In order to create the intro section from Pod Farm 2. 5 Platinum, the user would need to open up Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum and choose the track called "Audio Track" located in the left-hand toolbar. The user should then click on the folder icon in the lower left corner and choose "Audio Effects" to play with Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum's sounds. The user would then click on their microphone located in the lower left corner and select "Recording". The user should then play a musical note or chord that they feel is that of an intro and then stop recording by clicking on their stop button located in the upper right hand corner of their screen. The user should then press and hold their finger down on this recording button until all other keys are created. This will create an intro and will repeat forever until the user stops it. The user should then play all of the sounds that were used in this intro themselves using Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum. The user should click on the tempo button located in the upper right hand corner and increase the tempo until there is a rhythm to all of their notes. The next step for this project is to combine all of these notes into one drum beat with Pod Farm 2.5 Platinum's "groove" feature located in their "rhythm" tab. A groove allows users to create different rhythms by playing different notes at different frequencies at different times, but similar pitch ranges together creating one strong sound that can be layered over other sounds within Pod Farm 2.
