

CULTURE FIX

AS SUMMER KICKS IN, THIS MONTH'S CULTURE PICKS ARE A CELEBRATION OF CREATIVITY AND PLAY, SAYS BRYONY GOOCH

Clockwise from top left: Fearne Cotton's Happy Place Festival is back; Ryan Gosling and Margot Robbie star in Barbie; new drama Fifteen-Love; Grayson Perry's Smash Hits exhibition

FESTIVAL

Fearne Cotton's Happy Place Festival

Happy Place brings a host of speakers (from Giovanna Fletcher to Nick Grimshaw), to London's Chiswick House for its second year, all in the name of wellness and joy. As well as talks and panel events, there's an energy studio with gym classes, a creative arts tent with poetry, live music and spoken word events, plus workshops on crystal healing, self-care and sleep. 15th and 16th July; happyplaceofficial.co.uk

ART

Grayson Perry
Smash Hits

The Scottish National Gallery is hosting the biggest-ever exhibition of Grayson Perry's work, covering his 40-year career. See his Turner Prize-winning pottery, rarely shown tapestries and intricate cast-iron ship, The Tomb Of The Unknown Craftsman, in honour of history's anonymous craftsmen. You'll also see how Perry went from being keen on pottery to becoming one of Britain's most beloved artists. From 22nd July; visit nationalgalleries.org

FILM

Barbie

Greta Gerwig directs a stellar cast of Barbies and Kens (Margot Robbie, Ryan Gosling, Nicola Coughlan, Emma Mackey, Simu Liu and Ncuti Gatwa) in the summer's most anticipated release. After a series of strange events lead Barbie to question her perfect life in Barbieland, the world's favourite doll and her man embark on an adventure in the real world to find the true meaning of life, where they are chased down by the CEO of Mattel (Will Ferrell). In cinemas from 21st July

STREAM

Fifteen-Love

Just in time for Wimbledon, this fictional British drama series sees newcomer Ella Lily Hyland and Poldark's Aidan Turner play a former tennis prodigy and her ex-coach. When Justine makes an explosive allegation against her mentor, what follows is an enthralling exploration of power, sex and ambition. Available on Amazon Prime Video from July
